Duration: 30 hrs.

About the Course The ancient Indian language, Sanskrit, is essential for everyone interested in yoga and meditation and offers doors into the ageless Hindu and Buddhist traditions. The key to unlocking the civilizational treasures of Indian history, philosophy, and culture is Sanskrit. Sanskrit is the principal language of classical Indian art, music, dance, literature, and religion. It is also the language of Hinduism, Buddhism, and Jainism, offering direct access to a huge repository of literary, scientific, and philosophical information. Sanskrit serves as a foundation for the study of contemporary Indian languages and is also necessary for students of historical and comparative linguistics.

Aim of the Course This course offers Sanskrit, not only as a language, but also explores its roots to the Indian cultural history. In addition to covering the basic grammar and conversation, this course explores some of the great classics of Sanskrit literature, including the epics, dramas, courtly poetry and philosophical texts. At the same time students explore the historical and philosophical setting in which these works evolved and the role they play in Indian culture. By the end of our program, the participants are confident, competent and independent and well prepared to embark on further research in Sanskrit studies.

Course Content Module 1: Origin of Sanskrit and development (5 hrs.), Module 2: Vedic and Classical Sanskrit (5 hrs.), Module 3: Sanskrit and Prakrit languages (5 hrs.), Module 4: Dravidian influences on Sanskrit (5 hrs.), Module 5: Influence of Sanskrit on Indian cultural evolution (5 hrs.), Module 6: Sanskrit and Society, Geographical distribution of the language (5 hrs.)
